PERSONAL EXPRESSION

COUNCILMAN SALVATORE Requests the privilege of the floor to speak on a point of personal expression and states:

“I will keep my remarks brief since you were requested earlier today to keep the meeting short because NCAA Basketball is on tonight, but I was disappointed to learn earlier this week that our President, President Obama, has picked the Providence College Friars to lose tomorrow night in the first round of the NCAA Tournament. This is man who I voted for twice and I served as a delegate for him during his re-election campaign. With that said, I just want to let the Providence College community know, and the basketball team, that our city is behind them, our neighborhood is behind them and we wish them all the luck in this year’s edition of March Madness. Thank you.”

PERSONAL EXPRESSION

COUNCILMAN JACKSON Requests the privilege of the floor to speak on a point of personal expression and states:

“Earlier tonight, if you refer back in your packets, agenda item number fifteen was a Resolution Extending Congratulations to the Beat the Streets Providence Wrestlers and the Urban Collaborative for winning the first annual Providence City Wrestling Championship. Not only that, their wrestlers went on to the State Tournament and had people place them in the State Championship also. This is a program that was started back in 2013 and now has expanded to give middle schools in the City of Providence and anyone who knows me knows that sports is played every day of my life from the time I was nine years old until I still am at fifty six as a Collegiate Coach here in the great State of Rhode Island. So, this is very proud of me to standup because these young people have began a path being involved in this program that are going to lead them to bigger and greater things, not just in the athletic ventures, but in the academic ventures and the things that they do in their community because sports definitely builds discipline, commitment, comradery and family and I think that’s very important today on Saint Joseph’s Day because it was made a point that Saint Joseph is one of the Patron Saints of family also, and

I think that's extremely important. We have resolutions for the participants and I want to bring up the founder of the program who is a wrestler himself at Brown University. I don't know if he's graduated yet, but I know he was also a student at Brown University and he is going to assist me in handing out certificates and we're going to ask all the participants to come on up when your name is called. Kyle Mulbah, Jasmin Toribio, Saylyng DaLomba, Ebenezer Alcantara, Derek Diaz, Christian Gomez and Steven Morris.
