Residential property assessments were determined by employing a cost and sales comparison, also known as a "market approach." b.) Commercial and industrial property assessments, including apartments, were determined by using a cost and income approach. c.) Vacant land assessments were determined by analyzing various types and sizes of land found in Providence neighborhoods and commercial areas. Residual indications of land values were also studied, and based on those analyses; tables were developed for land valuation. This approach is best described as an application of the sales comparison approach. d.) Special purpose properties were valued by one or more of the above-described approaches. e.) Tax-exempt property assessments were generally valued using the cost approach.

Section 7. The line item for overtime is to be used for planned public events that occur outside the employees work schedules, public safety, and emergency related purposes. Non-union employees shall not be entitled to overtime.

LINE ITEMS VETO BY HIS HONOR, THE MAYOR

Communication dated October 29, 2001, Informing the City Clerk of his line items Veto on the following Ordinances:

Section 7, Section 8 and Section 9 of "An Ordinance in amendment of Chapter 2000-25, approved August 9, 2000, of the Ordinance of the City of Providence making an appropriation of four hundred eighty five million, seven hundred seventy two thousand, eight hundred sixty dollars ($485,772,860) for the Fiscal Year Ending June 30, 2002, as amended.

Section 7 of the Appropriation Ordinance states, "The line item for overtime is to be used for planned public events that occur outside the employees work schedules, public safety, and emergency related purposes. Non-union employees shall not be entitled to overtime." This provision is too restricted in that it unnecessarily ties the hands of the executive when it is confronted with circumstances which in its judgment require the use of overtime to effectively perform services in the public interest. Additionally, non-union employees may not be barred from receiving overtime; state labor laws set forth rules regarding overtime even when an employee is not covered by a collective bargaining agreement. Consequently, he is constrained to veto Section 7 of the Appropriation Ordinance.

Section 8 of the Appropriation Ordinance states that "The Funding for any position that becomes vacant during the fiscal year for any reason shall only be used to offset "breakage" until such time that breakage is zero (0). The City Council may reapportion this amount by amendment." This provision is unacceptable. The executive must be free to fill funded positions at any time so that necessary city services may be performed effectively. Consequently, he has also vetoed Section 8 of the Appropriation Ordinance.

Section 9 of the Appropriation Ordinance states, in part, that "any salary increase shall take effect on June 30, 2001 . . ." This provision is problematic in that the administration is currently engaged in collective bargaining with the various public employee bargaining units and, consequently, a provision of this kind at this time would needlessly address a subject which is properly part of the collective bargaining process. The City Council will have an opportunity to ratify collective bargaining agreements upon completion of negotiations. Therefore, he has vetoed Section 9 of the Appropriation Ordinance.
