PERSONAL EXPRESSION

COUNCILMAN BUTLER Requests the privilege of the floor to speak on a Point of Personal Expression and states:

For the last couple of weeks after coming home from work, getting our children ready for dinner and putting them to bed you find yourself glued to the TV as to what's going on down in New Orleans and Mississippi what the people of the country are doing to help Americans, not refugees, just Americans needing help. I don't know what it is but you feel bad for everybody. I believe it was last Wednesday I saw that the Governor or the President, somebody opened up the military housing that is in Middletown for 500 Americans to come in and live there temporarily. I just want to say, I know it's not our place but it bothers me that we leave these council meetings and we're going to get out of here at 8:15 and sometimes during the winter if you drive up and down Westminster Street we have people who are living there in Providence every single day that have no place to live. I can remember last winter going to work at 8:00 in the morning driving on Route 10 to 95 in a little place underneath the highway they were removing a body of someone who slept there and died at night. I really think that we need to do something. If there are 500 residents, 500 beds that have been left empty for who knows how long that when this crisis down south is fixed hopefully we're going to hear the President at 9:00 talk about his long term goals but if a military base is closing there is plenty of housing available for the less fortunate people of this country. Not just here in Rhode Island but throughout the country and being the father of four and seeing these young children just displaced it really bothers me and then on the other hand to see what my children do. They do collections and things like that for the people that are here in Providence. You know you do a collection then their forgotten about but I mean, I really think that we need to do something. It effects Providence, it effects the whole country, it effects the whole state. Like I said it's something that's really been bothering me and I know when this crisis is over hopefully we'll still be here. I don't know if it's the President, I don't know if it's our State Senators our Representatives but we have to do something to get the people who need the housing, housing. People who need a place to sleep at night. It will make a better community, it will make a better state, it will make a better country. Thank you.

COUNCILMAN APONTE Requests the privilege of the floor to speak on a Point of Personal Expression and states:

I want to take a moment to thank some hard working City employees. This past

Saturday I had the opportunity, the privilege to attend a cookout for a Mississippi family that had lost all their worldly possessions. They found themselves here through the efforts of one of their relatives that resided here in the southeastern New England area. Several City employees including a couple of folks from the Clerk's Office heard of their plight and quickly sprang into action. They really epitomized what this City is about, what Providence is truly about and within a matter of twenty-four hours they organized an effort that was very much like a family reunion. Seventeen members of a family that had lost all their worldly possessions found themselves miles from home staying in a strange hotel. At the time the policy was by FEMA and other agencies that if one was self evacuated one could not access the services and programs for those that had been evacuated with no voluntary needs. At the time the folks were staying in a hotel, miles from anything that they new, anyone that they new and it really touched my heart and touched the heart of my community that these folks opened up their home and within twenty-four hours to put together a very successful, not only a fundraiser because it seems impersonal when you raise dollars and turn those dollars over but really opened their homes, their hearts and their families to these folks who had been so devastated by the events that proceeded Hurricane Katrina. So it's not just offering them some financial assistance but really opening them up to their extended family here in Providence and I really wanted to take a moment to acknowledge that because having spent a little bit of time there it really did feel like a family reunion. I don't think that would happen in too many other places and as often as maligned the City employees are we need to take every opportunity to highlight and showcase the important deeds that are done above and beyond their duties as City employees and I thought that this was an appropriate time given the comments of my colleague that it's important that we recognize those things when someone talks the way that they usually talk about City employees and maligned them in the way that they do this is a concrete example that shows that this City has a heart, that this City cares and that it is the individuals within City government that make the City function and work everyday and they bring caring and compassion not only to their work but to their fellow man. So I just wanted to acknowledge that and thank them publicly for it and thank everyone who was involved in that effort because it was truly very special and I was honored and privileged to have been part of it.

PERSONAL EXPRESSION

COUNCILMAN BUTLER Request the privilege of the floor to speak on a Point of Personal Expression and states:

Very quickly. I would just like to congratulate one of my colleagues tonight and also at the same time the last couple of weeks I've been sick so I haven't been around and through the grapevine through, the Clerk's Office I was informed of something that I thought was just absolutely amazing.

Again, I would like to congratulate one of my colleagues. Unfortunately, the media is not here this evening but what else is new. Councilman Hassett, I believe at one of his committee meetings swearing in witnesses that come and appear before his committee. It was just something that I found was absolutely amazing and I thought it was a great idea. We have hundreds and hundreds of people that appear before us. Lawyers, constituents, taxpayers and department directors. Never has someone been sworn in before whatever committee it is. So there are things as a Council we can do if we find out later on that someone is lying to us. We can take steps and I would just like to congratulate Councilman Hassett for doing that. I thought it was a wonderful idea and now maybe we can do this not only in that committee but also all other committees of the City Council where we can actually hold department directors accountable for what they tell us. So if they come back before us in six months and something changes, were you telling us the truth or you were lying to us, did you not see this? At least we have a clearer picture as to what's going on so I would like to congratulate Councilman Hassett on it. Thank you.

COUNCILMAN APONTE Moves to Dispense with the Reading of the foregoing matters.

COUNCIL PRESIDENT LOMBARDI Refers the Several Resolutions to the Committee on Public Works.

COUNCILWOMAN WILLIAMS:

Resolution In Support of the "Religious Freedom Peace Tax Fund Act," to affirm the rights of taxpayers who are conscientiously opposed to participation in war by providing that the income, estate or gift tax payments of such taxpayers be used for nonmilitary purposes.

Whereas, Freedom of conscience is at the very core of the founding of our nation; and legislation originally passed in 1940 protects the rights of those who cannot in conscience bear arms by establishing alternative service for drafted conscientious objectors; and

Whereas, Increasingly, the ability of our government to wage war relies less on conscripted soldiers and more on "drafted dollars" to pay for advanced technology; and

Whereas, These advanced weapons perpetrate violence not only by means of their incredible destructive powers, but also through the devastation they cause in our communities by draining essential financial resources needed to address basic human needs; and

Whereas, According to the Friends Committee on National Legislation and the War Resisters League, analysis of the Budget of the United States Government, Fiscal Year 2004 shows that in the current fiscal year, 41.9% through 47% of the total budgeted Federal funds outlay will be spent on current and past military expenses (the range depends on the proportion of the Federal debt deemed military in origin); and, according to the Center for Defense Information, the annual military budget of the United States is greater than the combined budgets of the next twenty largest military budgets in the world; and

Whereas, With almost half of every tax dollar directed to past and present war making and weapons procurement, those taxpayers who have deep ethical, moral and/or religious objections to participation in war see themselves as being "drafted" into military service through their tax dollars, finding that the coerced support of military violence through taxation violates their conscience by compelling them to become collaborators in the development and proliferation of weapons and practices designed to cause death and destruction; and

Whereas, It is nearly impossible to avoid paying the coercive military tax (short of living below the taxable income level) without risking fines and imprisonment; and

Whereas, The Religious Freedom Peace Tax Fund Act, which was originally introduced in 1972, and was reintroduced in 2003, would address these widespread concerns about funding military violence while also affirming the conscientious objector's freedom of religion and conscience, by amending the Internal Revenue Code to create a separate tax fund (the "Religious Freedom Peace Tax Fund") earmarked for nonmilitary spending only; under the Act, this separate fund would be allocated annually to any appropriation not for current military purposes; and

Whereas, Conscientious objection to participation in military service based on religious, moral and ethical beliefs is recognized under Federal law, with provisions made for alternative service; and

Whereas, This is a right derived from the First Amendment to the United States Constitution, in which the framers, recognizing free exercise of religion as an inalienable right, secured its protection from government interference, protection which Congress reaffirmed in the Religious Freedom Restoration Act of 1993; and

Whereas, The right to freedom of conscience is secured in Article 18 of the United Nations Charter of Human Rights, and the application of Article 18 to conscientious objection to participation in war is affirmed by the United Nations Human Rights Committee in its General Comment 22 and by the UN Commission on Human Rights in its resolution 1998/77; and

Whereas, Under the Religious Freedom Peace Tax Fund Act, a "designated conscientious objector" is a taxpayer who is opposed to participation in war in any form based upon the taxpayer's deeply held moral, ethical or religious beliefs or training, and who has certified these beliefs in writing to the Secretary of the Treasury; and

Whereas, Taxpayers who are conscientious objectors recognize and affirm their civic and legal responsibilities to pay their full share of Federal taxes, and seek to do so without violation of their fundamental moral, ethical or religious beliefs; and

Whereas, While the Religious Freedom Peace Tax Fund Act would not directly affect spending priorities, the level of participation in the Peace Tax Fund would be published in the Congressional Record annually, providing a visible barometer for judging the nation's conscience in regard to participation in war; and

Whereas, Respecting the religious freedom of conscientious objectors will strengthen the tax system and will preserve the diversity of convictions that protect our democracy; and

Whereas, The Religious Freedom Peace Tax Fund Act recognizes and affirms the right of American taxpayers to pay 100% of their taxes without violating their deeply held convictions of conscience against participation in war; and

Whereas, The National Campaign for a Peace Tax Fund reports a significant increase in support for the concept of a Peace Tax Fund in recent years, with over 75 diverse national and regional organizations formally endorsing the legislation, including historic peace churches such as the Mennonites and Quakers; mainline Protestant denominations, such as the Presbyterian Church (US) and Evangelicals for Social Action; other religious groups such as the General Assembly, Orthodox Catholic Church (Romano-Byzantine Synod); Jewish Peace Fellowship; Buddhist Peace Fellowship; Christian Legal Society; and a number of other Catholic, Jewish and Unitarian organizations; Veterans for Peace; the National Green party; the American Arab Anti-Discrimination Committee; and many other civil rights and civil liberties organizations.

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the Council of the City of Providence calls upon the Congress and the President of the United States to enact into law the "Religious Freedom Peace Tax Fund Act," to affirm the religious freedom of taxpayers who are conscientiously opposed to participation in war and to provide that the income, estate or gift tax payments of such taxpayers be used for nonmilitary purposes; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Council of the City of Providence calls upon our United States Representatives and Senators to monitor and report on military expenditures funded by the taxes of residents of the City of Providence; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Council of the City of Providence calls upon our United States Representatives and Senators to take a lead in Congressional action to issue an accurate yearly report of Federal tax dollars used for military spending, for instance, by publishing a non-unified budget as was the practice until the late 1960's (this would exclude Trust Funds such as the Social Security Trust Fund, the revenues for which are raised through taxes other than income, estate or gift taxes).

COUNCIL PRESIDENT LOMBARDI Requests the privilege of the floor to speak on a Point of Personal Expression and states:

A couple of things you just need to be mindful of in the community. I'm currently having some sidewalks done in my neighborhood. And I've been put in a very awkward position where I was basically put into competition with my colleagues, and I refuse to do that. But just – just keep an eye on your sidewalks. Keep an eye on what's going on in your ward because there may be instances of sidewalks that you have not approved are being done and/or sidewalks that have been approved, that in fact have marks on them are not being done, and – and the contractors are like across the street or next door, so please be mindful of that. I'll tell you what's most disturbing, I'll tell you what's most disturbing, the process by which sidewalks are done. We know that there are monies in the budget to do sidewalks. Well, apparently the executive branch of government is telling people that – and make it clear that I'm saying this; Lombardi's saying it – that the only people that control the sidewalks are the Council members. So, we control which one gets done, when they get done, how they get done, and so on and so forth. I – again, I think a memo needs to go down to the executive branch of government on how this thing works. We've – some of us have done this several times but there's also a provision that allows the City, when they feel like, meaning the executive branch of government, to go in and do sidewalks on an emergency basis. And guess what, we do not control that. That's an executive function. So, let's be clear about that. So, if– if things are not happening in your ward, I can assure you – I can assure you that the fingers are being pointed at you guys, at you ladies and gentlemen I should say. And I – take that – I take that very seriously over an email that I received talking about someone's potential candidacy against one of our colleagues. And – and this was stated in the – in a formal presentation. And it said that – that this person that's running, or announced for running for office, worked in the Cicilline administration in the back office up until 2004, and during his time at City Hall he said he encountered several members of the Cicilline administration who were dissatisfied with the Council in general, and in particular with this one – with the Councilperson. So, there are documents out there about the – whatever's going on, this silent war that's going on. There really isn't a silent war because I think this Council has been very, very, very supportive of this administration. You know what, when it's good they'll take the credit. When it's bad, the finger's being pointed at you. And please be mindful of that because I know how hard each and every one of you work. I know that. And don't ever stop saying that. So, there are documents out there. There are letters out there. There are emails out there of people in this administration taking shots at us. With regard to the sidewalk earlier, there was someone who was on my bond list for maybe four years, and the advice from one of the ranking members in the administration told the guy how upset and enraged he was that Councilman Lombardi had no idea what he was talking about because he in fact is the one who controls it. Well, we know we don't control that. It's on a schedule. The weather's a factor. I just lost ten days of sidewalks because of the rain so that wouldn't conflict with one of my colleagues. You know what, I'm never going to allow that to happen. But, if again, I think we've had this discussion once before. It's very simple. Read the Charter. Read the Ordinances. And it's very simple. The answer's there. Now, if someone needs a quick lesson on how to do that, I'm always available. It's very simple. It's very straightforward. But as we get closer to next year, it's my favorite time of year. I call it the silly season. Well, apparently it started earlier. And we have documents to show that. So, from time to time, as I become privy to all this and become aware, I promise you that I will make them available to you. But just keep your – keep an eye on your local newspapers, local emails, local letters because there's some unflattering things being said about you. Thank you very much.
