You probably noticed what are all these good looking young people out in the audience doing here tonight. Well, we're here to honor a group of fantastic young individuals who came to my attention through Michael Clement the City Clerk. These are the Providence Senate Junior Bowling Program, a group of fantastic young men and women who are great bowlers but also great achievers in their school, encouragement through education. We thought it was important to honor them. A lot of them come from Providence, some come from East Providence, Pawtucket, Warwick, Cumberland, all over the State of Rhode Island but we wanted to be hopefully the first Council that will honor you and honor your accomplishments. So we have citations for everyone here. I wanted to get started by calling the coaches up first so you can help us pass out these citations. Now for every group of young people, the ones that live in Providence your own council person will give you those citations. This way if you have any questions or concerns about city government you know who to contact. This will be the first time for some of you who will be meeting your elected officials. With that being said I want to first recognize Lois Sacco, Coach, Monica Scott, Coach, Marty Jones, Coach and Vicki Jones.
