Zoning Board of Review

"Building Pride In Providence"

April 16, 1990

The Honorable Joseph R. Paolino, Jr.
Mayor of the City of Providence
Providence City Hall
60 Eddy Street
Providence, RI 02903

Re: City of Providence
Zoning Board of Review

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I am presently in the process of relocating and changing my domicile to a location outside of the City of Providence. Although there have been various exceptions granted under the Home Rule Charter and there has been discussion of abolishing the residency requirement, I believe that my position as chairman of the Providence Zoning Board of Review is still governed by the residency requirements of the charter. It is with deep regret, then, that I must offer my resignation as chairman of the Providence Zoning Board of Review.

At present, the Zoning Board's backlog is cleared up, we have developed a new application process and are in the process of adopting rules of order. There are still one or two decisions still outstanding which require my presence on the board for an additional 4 to 6 weeks. I will stay on the Board for as long as you deem it reasonable or necessary for me to do so and will be most happy to assist you in selecting a new chairman or board member.

It has been a pleasure serving you, the City and the neighborhood people. I must say, the most satisfying aspect of my tenure as a Board member has been the complete absence of political influence in the Board's decision making process. You should be very proud of your administration.

Sincerely,

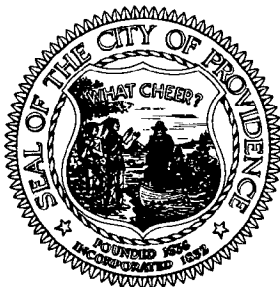

A handwritten signature, likely of Patricia A. Hurst, written in dark ink.

The Honorable City Council
c/o Rose Mendonca, City Clerk
City Hall
Providence, Rhode Island 02903

Dear Council Members:

Over the past few years, the Judge Thomas J. Paolino Zoning Code Study Commission, under the leadership of Councilman Thomas M. Glavin, has worked to develop a new zoning code to direct growth in the City. The development of this new zoning ordinance has been a long and tedious process. The Commission, which started only to update our existing zoning ordinance, found that much more was needed. The Commission spent many hours looking at the needs of the City as a whole and of each of the neighborhoods. All aspects of the zoning ordinance were examined.

The Commission and staff of the Department of Planning and Development was always ready to meet with interested groups to discuss the zoning ordinance. Many very helpful comments were received and incorporated into the zoning ordinance. Once the draft was complete, the Commission held neighborhood meetings. Based on the comments received, further revisions to the zoning ordinance were made. The Commission has forwarded this zoning ordinance to me urging its adoption.

The adoption of this zoning ordinance will protect the residential character of our neighborhoods, set the framework for the revitalization of downtown, direct the redevelopment of our waterfront, and, lead the City into the Twenty-First Century. I urge you to adopt this zoning ordinance and set the tone for growth and change in the city.

Sincerely,

JOSEPH R. PAOLINO, JR.
Mayor of Providence
