Committee on Public Works

Providence, Rhode Island

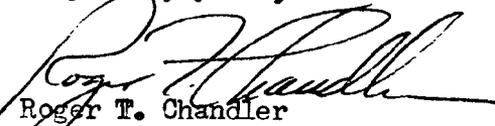

Gentlemen:

We have reviewed the traffic conditions at the intersection of Killingly Street and Sunset Avenue as requested.

The existing "Yield" control regulation was installed in May, 1961. Since that time there have been only four reported accidents and only one of these was a right angle type accident.

In view of this excellent accident record and the good visibility that exists at this intersection, we do not recommend any change in traffic control regulations at this time.

Very truly yours,

Roger T. Chandler
Traffic Engineer
