Rhode Island Agents for

—THE—

New England Phonograph Company,

SWARTS BUILDING, PROVIDENCE, R. I.

This Company is prepared to supply either a Phonograph or Phonograph-Graphophone at an annual rental of $40.

These Instruments are designed to be used where an accurate transcript of speech is desired, and are therefore valuable for use with a typewriter, thus displacing the stenographer—and for correspondence. Cylinders may be mailed for reproduction. The Instruments can be operated by treadle or electric motor. All styles of instruments can be seen at our office.

ELECTRIC MOTORS AND STORAGE BATTERIES

Supplied and Batteries called for, charged and delivered.

Blank Cylinders for Ordinary Use For Sale.

Special Cylinders For Sale Containing Music and Speeches by Prominent Artists.

SPECIAL.

For the convenience of those who rent an instrument, but who do not possess a typewriter we will furnish typewritten transcripts of mater dictated to a Phonograph or Phonograph-Graphophone, by having the cylinders sent to our office.

GARDNER T. SWARTS. WM. P. GANNETT, JR.

SWARTS & GANNETT,

Rhode Island Agents for

—THE—

New England Phonograph Company,

SWARTS BUILDING, PROVIDENCE, R. I.

This Company is prepared to supply either a Phonograph or Phonograph-Graphophone at an annual rental of $40.

These Instruments are designed to be used where an accurate transcript of speech is desired, and are therefore valuable for use with a typewriter, thus displacing the stenographer—and for correspondence. Cylinders may be mailed for reproduction. The Instruments can be operated by treadle or electric motor. All styles of instruments can be seen at our office.

ELECTRIC MOTORS AND STORAGE BATTERIES

Supplied and Batteries called for, charged and delivered.

Blank Cylinders for Ordinary Use For Sale.

Special Cylinders For Sale Containing Music and Speeches by Prominent Artists.

SPECIAL.

For the convenience of those who rent an instrument, but who do not possess a typewriter we will furnish typewritten transcripts of mater dictated to a Phonograph or Phonograph-Graphophone, by having the cylinders sent to our office.

The Corliss Steam Engine Co.

PROVIDENCE, R.I.

Incorporated June, 1856; Established by

GEORGE H. CORLISS,

INVENTOR OF THE CELEBRATED

"CORLISS ENGINE."

DESIGNER & BUILDER OF THE FAMOUS

"CENTENNIAL ENGINE,"

Exhibited at the Philadelphia Exposition, 1876.

These works have been fully equipped, at great cost, with heavy special tools, of his invention, for the manufacture of this perfected engine, which is a guarantee of Superiority in workmanship, and interchangeability of parts never before attempted in the line of steam machinery.

The public will understand that we have no relations with American or European Builders of so-called "Improved Corliss Engines," and that the final and perfected Engine of Mr. George H. Corliss, embodying his latest ideas, is to be obtained exclusively at our works.

ALSO MANUFACTURERS OF THE

Corliss Patent Vertical Tubular Water Leg Boiler,

Especially adapted for compound and triple expansion engines requiring superheated Steam and at very high pressure.

The Key to Success in Business.

—BY—

A. G. SCHOLFIELD,

—PRINCIPAL OF—

Scholfield's Commercial College,

PROVIDENCE, R. I.

Copyright 1890, by A. G. Scholfield.

The Intellectual Advantage to the Student, of the Study of Book-keeping, as it is Taught in Scholfield's Commercial College.

There is no study that one can take up and pursue for the same limited time, that combines as much in variety, and that can so effectually discipline the mind in reasoning from cause to effect, and that can so intellectually and effectually equip him, or her, for the various duties of life as the study of Double Entry Bookkeeping under a competent teacher. This study secures to the student an easy, graceful and legible hand writing. This study compels its students to acquire a thorough knowledge of commercial Arithmetic as a preliminary qualification for the study of Bookkeeping. This study in its practical details, as pursued in this college, also requires its students to write all the letters of business correspondence suggested by the business which is the subject of the students' lessons. Our students are required to write all these letters and to submit them for criticism and when corrected to copy them into his Book of Forms for future reference. The laws of business to which every persons' business is subject more or less, in its conduct and its records, are also here taught in all their practical details in connection with Bookkeeping.

This study embodies not only the foregoing preliminary considerations, but it calls into requisition certain fundamental governing principles, a thorough knowledge of which the student must acquire before he can commence or pursue understandingly the study of either single or double entry. Intellectually equipped with a thorough knowledge of these elementary governing principles, the student proceeds alone, aided by a competent teacher withal, to solve understandingly in the Day Book, Journal and Ledger and auxiliary books, the various actual business transactions which are the subjects of the students' lessons in both Single and Double entry. So definite, clear and available, to satisfy any inquiry which may arise in the business they represent are these business records, made under our supervision, that the student becomes at once fascinated in pursuing this very interesting and most important branch of education.

Finally, the time having come when the net gain or loss in the business of the past should be ascertained, that business the records of which are rendered in conformity with correct principles and their subordinate rules; the student proceeds to perform this task by making a Grand Balance Sheet, which sheet combines a Trial Balance, a Balance Sheet and a Profit and Loss Sheet, his Grand Balance Sheet made from the Ledger constitutes a mathematical process by which both gross and net gain or loss in the business in the past is ascertained and proven beyond a doubt. The student having intelligently solved the profit and loss problem under consideration, proceeds to close the Profit and Loss account in the Ledger into the account or accounts to which it is subordinate. Having availed himself of the rare opportunity offered in Scholfield's Commercial College, for acquiring a thorough business education, and having under the guidance of its principal and his assistants opened a set of business books in double entry, penned their records daily, weekly and monthly, solved every problem demanded of the Accountant from day to day, and closed the business into Profit and Loss correctly and understandingly, the student realizes for the first time that he holds the intellectual key to the science of double entry bookkeeping—the key to success in business and to a competency through life. What enterprising young gentleman or lady does not covet such an accomplishment? A word to the wise is sufficient.

Importance of a Business Education as a Specialty, and Where to Obtain It.

The great and all-absorbing question that forces itself upon the mind of every enterprising young man, on retiring from the grammar school, or when about to leave the parental roof, and aspiring to business pursuits, is, How can he procure business honorable and remunerative? The common impression among this class of young men is, that with a common school education, they are fully prepared to enter upon nearly all the active duties of life. Delusive conclusion.

Young man, be not deceived. Between yourself and the business to which you aspire, is the counting room with its multitudinous demands, details and results; legal, prudential and financial; and you cannot effectually and successfully reach the one without the other.

Your grammar school education is all very well, so far as it goes, and is of great importance to you; but it does little or nothing in preparing you for the special duties of an accountant; duties already claiming your attention, and for which you must prepare yourself sooner or later, or sacrifice the rewards resulting from the performance of those duties. You may, it is true, succeed in securing employment in some subordinate position, a position that may afford you profitable lessons in the drudgery of business, accompanied with its compensating pay; but if you would aspire to anything higher, if you would procure and retain employment, both honorable and remunerative, if you would be prepared to conduct business on your own account, with a fair prospect of success, you must first acquire a knowledge of accounts, which accounts scientifically displayed and rendered, reveal the past effectually, and are in importance to the business man, second only to business, the details of which they represent. But will the inexperienced young man reply to this by saying that he does not care to take a situation as an accountant, and as to business, his own, if he ever reaches it, he hopes to be able to employ an accountant, and thus obtain relief from the accountant's duties?

In reply to the first objection, I would say, that your interest in the science of accounts does not depend upon whether or not you wish employment at once as an accountant. If you contemplate business on your own account in the future, or in any situation involving on your part, financial responsibilities, a knowledge of bookkeeping is indispensable, and should receive your earliest attention. Furthermore, there is no position in one's business more honorable, none as well paid, and none that will advance a young man so rapidly and profitably in all that appertains to business and its results, and that so thoroughly fits a young man for business, his own, as the position of the accountant.

His connection with his employer is such that he acquires from him that business tact and talent, that it has taken his employer years, and often fortunes to acquire, and thus he is enabled, at a proper time, to start in business with the experience of his former employer. In reply to the second objection, I would say, if you would know your own business, you must know how to keep your own accounts, whilst you entrust the keeping of them to another.

Nothing is more easy than for an accountant to deceive, and embezzle from his employer large sums of money without fear of detection, when his employer is ignorant of the science of bookkeeping.

The frequent cases of embezzling from employers that come to our notice through the newspapers, should serve as a sufficient warning to the wise and prudent business man, and those preparing to fill his place. The wise and sagacious business man will not let the success of his business rest upon the honesty or dishonesty of his bookkeeper; but, having become a thorough accountant, he is prepared to detect any fraudulent entry made upon his books, to disguise the acts of a dishonest bookkeeper. He is thus prepared to detect any disguise at once, and to remove the rogue in time to save his fortune from plunder, and himself from bankruptcy. From the foregoing facts and deductions, it must be apparent to the reader, that every enterprising young man should, before entering the arena of business, either as a principal or subordinate, acquire a thorough knowledge of bookkeeping, which includes not only the science of accounts, but also all the incidental business formulas and correspondence.

The only question remaining to be settled is, where can this education be obtained most effectually and economically?

Is it in the grammar school, in the high school, public or private, in the counting room in actual business, or in the initiatory counting room under a practical accountant of long and varied experience in business affairs?

It is not in the grammar school, neither is it in the high school public or private, and for the following reasons: First, the teachers in these schools are not supposed to have had much, if any, practical experience as accountants.

In the absence of such experience, the teacher's success in teaching this important practical science must be, to say the least, extremely limited. Furthermore, in the schools in question, bookkeeping is invariably taught in connection with other studies, a small portion of the student's time being devoted to the study of bookkeeping, while the stern lessons of experience teach us that the study of bookkeeping alone, as a science, and as a specialty, is in its comprehensive scope and variety, all that the intellect can grasp and carry successfully to a practical and satisfactory maturity.

Neither is the counting-room in actual business the most suitable place to initiate the student into the science of accounts, and for obvious reasons.

First, it is well known that a very large percentage of our counting-rooms, in both city and country, practice only vague theories in their bookkeeping, which are hardly worth pursuing, and not worth learning. Again the demand for inexperienced or assistant bookkeepers in our first-class counting-rooms, is so extremely limited that not more than one in fifty of those interested and seeking the instruction these counting-rooms afford, could find admittance therein as students; hence, were this branch of education confined to those counting-rooms, forty-nine out of every fifty must from necessity remain ignorant of the science of accounts, and subject to all the disadvantages resulting from this ignorance in their future career. An experience of forty-four years as a practical accountant and teacher of the science of accounts, compels me to say, that the initiatory counting-room, with a thorough, efficient, practical accountant at its head, is the place where the student can acquire a knowledge of the science of accounts most effectually, the most speedily and the most economically, and for the following reasons:

First, the initiatory counting-room, under a competent principal, has all the talent and business experience in its faculty that the first-class counting-room in actual business combines. Besides, in the initiatory counting-room, the principal has time and opportunity to discuss before his students all subjects connected with their lessons more thoroughly and effectually than can be done in any counting-room in actual business. Again, the initiatory counting-room presents to its students, in a course of lessons requiring from three to four months to master, a greater variety of transactions, and in a greater variety of business, from the opening to the closing of books, annually and finally, than can be found in any counting-room in actual business, in two years' time. Furthermore, the initiatory counting-room avoids the repetition encountered in all actual business, and saves the student one and a half year's time, and the attendant expenses in the task of acquiring a business education, since in actual business he can reach the variety necessary, only through repetition, and with little, or no pay for his service.

Such an initatory counting-room as above portrayed, is represented under the name of Scholfield's Commercial College.

Whilst this college provides for its students rare and unsurpassed facilities for acquiring a business education, its merits are appreciated by a discriminating business public, from whom applications are being constantly made to the principal of this institution for young men and women to fill places of honor and trust in various parts of the country. These places are invariably filled by graduates of Scholfield's Commercial College, and without expense to either the employer or the employed. Thus the student has my aid and influence in procuring a situation, and is at liberty to call on me for any information appertaining to the science of accounts, without charge.

Commercial College,

174 WESTMINETER STREET,

Providence, R. I.

Founded by its present proprietor, A. D. 1846, since which time this College has educated

Twelve Thousand Students.

The branches of study here taught are Writing, Bookkeeping, Commercial Arithmetic, the common English branches, Phonography, Type Writing, Mechanical Drawing, Painting in Oil and Water Colors, Commercial Law and Business Correspondence.

NO CLASSES.

Each student is favored with separate instruction. The superior advantages that the principal of this College possesses for securing to its student-graduates remunerative employment will be always cheerfully conferred on such students. The demand upon us for our student-graduates Accountants during the last year has been greater in favor of Ladies than of Gentlemen. Will the Ladies qualify themselves to supply such future demand? The sail down Narragansett Bay by this line is unsurpassed. Leaving the heat and dust of Providence behind, you are soon on the clear bright water, which wends its way to the ocean. The cottages of the summer residents dot the shore on either side as you pass Silver Spring, Riverside and Nayatt on the one side, and Pawtuxet, Long Meadow and Rocky Point on the other. After passing Nayatt, Warren comes in sight; then Bristol and Fall River. Sailing up Mt. Hope Bay, you pass Mt. Hope, celebrated in the early history of the State. After turning the northern extremity of the island of Rhode Island, you enter Seaconnet River and pass through the two bridges, and a short sail takes you by Fogland Point, and out where you can feel the gentle swell of the ocean, and soon arriving at Seaconnet Point, where ample time is allowed for getting dinner, and for a drive or a bath. The hotel capacity has been doubled and all parties can be accommodated.

WILLIAM J. DANIELSON,

Newspaper Advertising

—AND—

SUBSCRIPTION AGENT,

No. 62 Westminster Street, Providence, R. I.

JUDICIOUS ADVERTISING PROMOTES TRADE.

Mr. Danielson for more than twenty years connected with the "Providence Journal," has established a general Newspaper Advertising and Subscription Agency, in the Lyceum Building, No. 62 Westminster Street.

Large experience in the newspaper business, and a familiarity with the best mediums for advertising, enable him to offer practical advice and assistance in so placing advertisements that the advertiser may reap the best results from the money expended.

Advertisements and subscriptions received for all the leading Newspapers and Magazines at low rates. Special attention given to "locals" or reading notices in the Providence papers.

Libraries, Societies, or individuals requiring any considerable number of Newspapers and Periodicals will find it to their advantage to send for terms.

Estimates for any amount of Advertising and information as to best medium cheerfully furnished.

THE MIDDLESEX BANKING COMPANY,

MIDDLETOWN, CONN.

CAPITAL, - - $600,000. - - FULLY PAID.

Offers the safest possible investment for money in Debenture Bonds with First Mortgage Real Estate Collaterals. The closest investigation invited.

It has superior advantages of much importance to those seeking absolute security.

Its liabilities are limited by law, being required to have not less than 10 per cent. more assets constantly on hand than its liabilities. As a matter of fact it has over twice that amount.—See Bank Commissioners' Report.

It is under the supervision of the State Bank Commissioners, the same as other Banks in Connecticut.

ITS RECORD.

Fourteen years in business without a dollar lost, or a day's delay in the payment of Principal or Interest.

THOMAS EVANS,

Steam Engineer.

Examinations and Tests of Steam Plants for securing economy of fuel. Steam Engines Indicated and Power carefully measured.

Investigations made on the performance of Steam Engines and Boilers under all working conditions.

Thomas Evans' Patent Steam Damper Regulator and Economizer.

ALSO PATENT GRATE BAR.

FRONT.

To STEAM USERS:

One of the chief features of this grate bar is "A Uniform Air Space," free from sharp angles and curves, the air flowing through this bar meets with the least possible resistance, enabling a large amount of air to pass through with minimum amount of draught. The very large amount of air neccessary to form a perfect combustion under ordinary conditions in burning coal demands a carefully designed grate bar, one that will allow free access of air or oxygen to the incandescent fuel and at the same time allow of the refuse ashes to fall through freely. This bar contains from 46 to 65 per cent. air space, according to nature of fuel used. To all parties using grate bars, it is worth their serious consideration.

Yours truly,

THOMAS EVANS, Steam Engineer,

THE PROVIDENCE

Steam Carpet Beating Company,

NEW NUMBER 151 SUMMER STREET.

Economy! Neatness!! Despatch!!!

Old Carpets made to look nearly as good as new by the use of the Patent Carpet Beating Machine. Grease removed by a new process. Special rates for renovating. By this method of cleaning Carpets they are uniform by beaten their entire length and breadth, by revolving flexible whips, which will not injure the finest fabric, yet thoroughly expel all the Dust and Moths. The dust and dirt, as fast as beaten out of the fabric, are removed from the compartment where the carpets are beaten, by an EXHAUST FAN, which also removes and carries out of the room any moth or larva which may be beaten out of the carpet with the dirt and dust, so that there is no possibility of their settling back on the carpet.

If it be found necessary, we can apply our heated steam process in addition to the machine for removing dust and dirt; and this process will effectually relieve the carpet of all impurity, and in doing this bring the colors out almost like new. The moths and vermin are killed and not likely to trouble the fabric for a long time to come. Health and comfort are both promoted thereby. The carpets are not only beaten and cleaned, but are thoroughly aired, there being a constant supply of fresh air going through the machine at all times.

Orders sent by Mail or Telephone to the Factory will receive prompt attention. Open every working day of the year. ☞ ALL WORK GUARANTEED.

CARPETS, RUGS, BLANKETS, ETC., WASHED.

Carpets called for, Cleaned and returned without regard to weather. Cartage free. Carpets taken up and relaid when desired. Send for circulars.

PROVIDENCE RE-CUT FILE CO.

Lyman H. Littlefield, Prop., 123 Dorrance St., Providence, R. I.

We wish to call your attention to a few of the ways in which our process is superior to all other methods of Re-cutting Files:

FIRST.—No stock is wasted, while by other methods the stock is reduced about one-half.

SECOND.—The temper of the file is not effected, while by other methods the temper is drawn and the file re-tempered, thereby greatly impairing the quality of the steel.

THIRD.—A file can be re-cut a great number of times, instead of only once as by the other methods.

FOURTH.—The price is only one-half that of other methods.

FIFTH.—A fine file is re-cut as cheaply as a coarse one.

THE

Thirty-first Annual Statement of the

Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co.,

Shows the year 1889 the most successful in its history.

The new business written each month exceeded any corresponding month since its organization.

Adding restorations, etc., as is done in the official reports, as well as in the advertisements of other companies, the amount of new business of the Company written in 1889 was $51,601,584.00, more than double that of any other company doing a strictly United States business.

Had these results been achieved in a reckless race to surpass other companies regardless of expense; or by a departure from the NORTHWESTERN'S well known conservatism, it might well be questioned whether growth was really an advantage and whether large business is equivalent to true success and permanent gain.

The whole number of policies in force January 1st, 1890, was 84,329, amounting to $202,405,923, an increase for the year of 11,199 policies and $29,887,032. insurance.

During the 31 years since the company commenced business it has paid to the representatives of its deceased policy holders, for death losses,	$18,933,309.82
And to its living policy holders for dividends, matured endowments, surrendered and lapsed policies,	29,943,154.28
Total,	$48,876,464.10
Add present assets,	37,116,870.31
Amount paid to policy holders and held for them,	$85,993,334.41
Total premiums received,	75,637,025.87
Excess of assets and payments to policy-holders over premium receipts,	$10,356,308.54

From this last item it will be noticed the payments to policy-holders added to the present assets amount to nearly ten and a half millions more than the entire premium receipts.

The average annual death rate for the four years ending 1879 was 1.20 of the mean amount at risk, and for the four years ending 1889, only 0.93 of the mean amount at risk; a decrease in ten years of 0.27 per cent. or a decrease of $2.70 per $1,000 of insurance in force, saving in the four years of over $1,600,000 less by reason of its reduced death rate, while another company's losses were over $7,000,000 more by reason of its increased death rate. During the five years and even during the ten years ending 1888, the NORTHWESTERN'S average death rate was lower than that of either of its twelve leading competitors (0.17 per cent. lower than the Company standing next to it). It was also actually lower than any of the twelve companies during each one of the ten years. This is not good luck, or the work of chance. This unparalleled record means something more than that the Company is "good and sound"—all those companies are good and sound. It means the superior VALUE OF MEMBERSHIP.

The Northwestern has lived a generation, and stands first among the great life companies in the character and profit of its investments, so also it ranks first in choice and selected membership; not only by reason of the high standard for the individual member, as regards residence, occupation and character, but in persistently refusing to establish agencies in foreign countries, and by limiting its business to the healthy portions of the United States.

High interest and low mortality combined are the prodigious factors which earn surplus for members, and together with safe and economical management, have made the NORTHWESTERN—not the largest life insurance company—but in all points of real and substantial benefit to policy-holders, unquestionably the most successful life insurance company in the world.

PLASTICO

The New and Permanent Coating for Walls and Ceilings. In Pure White and Tints as shown on the margin of this page.

Combines all the advantages of so-called Kalsomines with none of their disadvantages. Elegant Relief Work, Modeling, Combing, Stippling, and Blending can be done better and cheaper with it than with any other material. Specially adapted for Interior of Factories, Halls, Public Buildings or Residences, as any number of coats can be applied to plaster, wood, or any solid surface, without scaling off, and it does not require to be taken off to renew from time to time, as it hardens with age, on the surface. (Ask the dealer to show piece of wood with 30 coats on.)

It is as Fire Proof as any light coat can be; the wood can be burned from our wood samples and leave the coating of Plastico intact.
