PROVIDENCE HOUSE AND STREET DIRECTORY

Copyright, 1938, Sampson & Murdock Co., Boston, Mass.

Giving the location of Streets, Avenues, Parks and Places, and showing what other streets and places run from or across them.

A list of Householders and Business Places arranged in numerical order upon their respective streets, even numbers on left side with a few exceptions.

The streets are arranged in alphabetical order.

A HOME OWNERS AND TENANTS DIRECTORY—a valuable feature showing which houses are owned by the occupants. The symbol, ® following the name of a householder, indicates that the house is owned by the person listed or by some member of the family.

This information is as received by the canvasser. The publisher does not and cannot guarantee its correctness.

Business places are denoted by the street number printed in bold-face figures. When a person's place of business and residence are at the same place, it is indicated by the use both of bold-face figures for the street number and of the abbreviation h at the end of the line. How to Use the Directory

The City Directory is really a cooperative catalog of the inhabitants, business interests, and institutions of the City. But the very mass of the information contained, until one learns how to use it, may appear to be an obstacle to those unfamiliar with its arrangement.

Chambers of Commerce receive thousands of calls for information, many of which might be answered with a saving of time to all concerned by a simple reference to the Directory, if inquirers thought to look there first. At the suggestion of one Chamber, the following list of typical questions which can usually be answered by referring to the Directory, was drawn up. It is interesting, educational, and should help users to get more value from the Directory.

Alphabetical Section (Page 397). Gives names, occupations and addresses of men and women eighteen years old or over, also all business houses. Wives' names are listed immediately after that of the husbands, enclosed in parentheses. Dates of deaths during the previous year are given, and where possible, the addresses of people who have moved to other cities. The names of partners in firms are given in this department, with much other information that cannot be found elsewhere.

Business Directory (Page 209) All business houses, individuals in business for themselves, and professional men are listed without charge under the heading that best describes them. The more progressive houses, realizing that it pays to be easily found, pay a nominal charge for special listings in heavy type, under every heading where a buyer might look for them, cross-indexed to a descriptive space in the "reference section."

Reference Department (Page 65) Where more information than is possible to give under the headings is placed on file for buyer's reference. The value of this department cannot be estimated. It is an index of the best business interests of the city, and stands for them and the city in reference libraries all over the country, as well as on the desks of progressive business men. It is accessible to everybody, and the logical place to look for specific information. This probably explains why no other form of publicity is so generally endorsed by business men, as a glance at this department will show.

Map (opposite) The clearest map ever made of the city, on a scale large enough to see, and small enough to be handled easily.

Street and House Directory (Page 1057) A complete list of Streets, giving intersecting streets, and enabling one to tell at once between what streets a given number lies, and the quickest way to get there. All business houses, individuals in business and householders are listed in numerical order upon their respective streets. A feature of great value and convenience.

The Return Circuit in Advertising

The circuit must be completed before the bell will ring
The Buyer must find the Seller before a Sale is made

Creative Advertising—in newspapers, magazines, billboards etc., tends to suggest wants and to create desire.

Before a sale results the initiative must pass from Seller to Buyer.

When this happens the Buyer begins actively to seek where he can best supply his wants.

This Directory is a logical place to look (at least our subscribers tell us they use it for this purpose) and the Reference Advertising herein has assisted many sales.

Have you made it easy for Buyers to find You?

Providence was founded in 1636 by Roger Williams. Incorporated in 1832. The oldest bank in America and the first Baptist meeting house in the country are located in the city. Brown University, founded in 1764, and many institutions of the early eighteen hundreds are within the city limits. The first directory of names and addresses of persons located in the city was published in 1824.

Providence is the second city of New England in point of population, a fact of special significance, inasmuch as the figures of the United States Census Bureau credit the city with 252,981 inhabitants, yet its area is only nineteen square miles. This City is the trading centre for an immediately adjoining population of fully five hundred thousand people; furthermore, if we include an extended area, the population of which turns to Providence more than to any other city, that trading population is increased to seven hundred and fifty thousand. Recent statistical estimates prepared for the Census Bureau with a view to establishing boundaries for Metropolitan Providence place it eleventh in area among cities of the United States.

Many factors contribute in making Providence a great city in respect, not only to population, but to industrial activity. Situated as it is on Narragansett Bay with its deep channel and other superior water facilities, the city is in a position to call to its service transportation by water as well as by rail. The activities of the Port of Providence increase year by year and they will expand at a tremendous rate when there shall be established in the city elevators which can supply grain cargo to fill the bottoms of ocean steamers.

Providence is more than usually well provided with excellent public utility facilities. Its Gas Company is known as the most efficient in the industry in New England. Its highly efficient electric service has grown to very large proportions. The street railway system, now embodied in the Rhode Island Public Service Company, furnishes service not only within the city, but to many outlying points. Its telephone service is the equal of the best in the New England Telephone and Telegraph system, of which it is a part.

The densely populated industrial district of Providence, with its large population to be fed and clothed, is known in all parts of the United States as a distributing point of great importance. Because of the excellent educational opportunities offered, there is a large student population attending Brown University, Pembroke College, Providence College and various smaller private schools.

Providence is particularly fortunate in having a diversity of manufactures. It is not dependent on any one industry. The great industries which have distinguished the city for many years include textiles, jewelry, silverware, iron and steel. It has, for instance: the largest machine shop in the world; the largest finger ring manufacturer in the country; the largest file manufacturers in the world; the largest silverware manufacturers in the United States; the largest screw manufacturer in the world; one of the leading newspapers of the country, the Providence Journal. Back of these industries and supporting them is a great variety of products, large and small, that have a national reputation. Few cities in the United States send out daily so many small packages of so great a variety of manufactured articles as does Providence.

The city of Providence has one of the lowest municipal tax rates in the country, a low bonded indebtedness and numerous other advantages. Among the most important of these is the wonderful water supply now impounded in an area some seven miles from the city, and as large as the city itself, which ensures pure water for human consumption and a plentiful supply for fire emergencies.

Providence retail trade is prosperous, as it should be, in the centre of so great a population. Likewise the wholesale trade, which reaches out over an area extending into Connecticut, Massachusetts and other New England states.

Few cities have been more active in providing adequate facilities for the care of the sick and needy; its hospitals are equal to all demands. The municipality has been active in providing for its citizens those agencies, such as parks and playgrounds, that contribute to the promotion of life and health. The parks form the centre for annual events which attract hundreds of thousands of people for enjoyment and cultural development. Best known among these events is the Annual Festival of the Providence Festival Chorus in Roger Williams Park.

Providence is an attractive city in which to do business and to live in comfort and security. This is evidenced by its continued increase of population over that which follows a steady birth-rate, due to the coming from all parts of the country of investors of both capital and labor. Newcomers are accommodated in Providence as in few other cities with publicly conducted enterprises which ensure good health, excellent educational opportunities, good living conditions and satisfactory returns.

For those who are interested in obtaining general information or detail particulars regarding the municipality and business opportunities it is recommended they write to the Providence Chamber of Commerce.
