The Honorable Joseph A. Doorley, Jr.
Mayor of Providence
The Honorable City Council
Providence, Rhode Island

Gentlemen:

Submitted herewith is the Annual Report of your Traffic Engineering Department for 1966.

The report is compiled to review the activities of the Department, including physical changes that have been made in the street system, changes in traffic regulations, and a breakdown of annual expenditures necessary to continue this effort.

After a full year of continuous freeway traffic through the City on I-95 it is safe to say new problems have arisen to invalidate what was at one time thought to be the "total" solution to Providence's congestion problems of the fifties. Not only has traffic exceeded the projected figures for the facility, but because of the delay from design to construction, this completed facility reflects design standards acceptable twenty years ago. Congestion remains the ever-present meter that will determine future policies on the unrestricted use of the automobile as a mode of transportation.

The problem of better use of existing streets will continue to be one of the Department's major functions. The modernization program of updating traffic signs, signals and markings will also be continued to bring all traffic devices into national conformity.

It is only through your continued support, however, that a safe, efficient transportation system can be assured for metropolitan Rhode Island.

Very truly yours,

John I. Logan

INTRODUCTION

Continuing construction of necessary links in our transportation system has been the program on the State level in Providence and surrounding communities. Tight money for this construction has forced delays in some of the projects, and the unhappy situation of stagnation at the planning level has been responsible for others.

Progress on sections of the Interstate routes and spurs necessary to complete this system and the urban pattern is noted here for the record.

1. Interstate Route 195 -- The spur from I-95 easterly to Massachusetts will be complete with the construction of the new Washington Bridge and new George M. Cohan Boulevard. Construction on the roadway started in 1966, and Washington Bridge is due to start in 1967.

2. New Red Bridge and River Drive Connection to I-195 -- Because of the cutback in federal funds, the expected completion date has been extended another year.

3. Civic Center Interchange and Connecting Links to Route 6 West -- I-95 to Roberts Expressway is to be done in two sections beginning in 1967.

4. Extension of Route 6 West (Hartford Avenue to City Line) -- This will be completed when funds are available. Partial construction from Glenbridge Avenue to the City line has been completed.

Other localized construction will be undertaken as a part of redevelopment projects scheduled throughout the City. The projects currently involving the Traffic Engineering Department's personnel are the Central-Classical project, the Weybosset Hill project, and the development of the East Side Urban Renewal project. In all of these project areas it is the basic policy of this department to make the best use of the existing streets and highways, including portions of the freeway system that are available for use, to provide the safest and most efficient transportation system possible. As each segment or separate freeway project has progressed from site clearance, to construction involving temporary bypass roads, to final completion, many changes are required in the traffic patterns around the construction areas.

Unquestionably, in the next few years tremendous strides will be made toward the solution of man's biggest problem, transportation. Whether the "solution" will outmode immediately our present types of transportation is not known. Therefore, the best possible use of our existing street system will continue to be our major goal. On-street and off-street parking continues to be a problem in all areas of the City, and will be so until a truly adequate supply of off-street parking is made available. Off-street spaces must be of such quantity, and the lots or garages designed in such a manner as to be compatible with the street system serving them.

Even though much has been done to create an atmosphere of safe, fluid traffic movement throughout the City, additional work is necessary on a continuing basis. With the newly created Transportation Safety Agency at the federal level, and State counterparts due to be created, more money and effort will be concentrated on safety in transportation than has ever before been the case. It will remain to be seen if the emphasis has been correctly placed on the machine. However, the City can expect to reap many benefits in the form of State and Federal aid in the predictable future.

TRAFFIC ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT ORGANIZATION

General Organization

The Traffic Engineering Department was authorized by City Council Ordinance in October, 1948, and the Department was activated on March 1, 1949, with the appointment of a Traffic Engineer, the reassignment of other maintenance personnel, and the use of a separate budget. The Traffic Engineer is appointed by the Mayor with confirmation of the City Council. To assist in forming advisory policy, the Ordinance established the Traffic Engineering Advisory Committee composed of the members of the official City family. The members include:

Mayor Joseph A. Doorley, Chairman
Joseph C. Keegan, Finance Director
Robert McOsker, City Solicitor
Howard A. Franklin, Chief of Police
Lawrence P. McGarry, Director of Public Works
Thomas L. Payne, Chairman of the City Council's Committee on Public Works
Frank H. Malley, Director, City Plan Commission
Peter J. Hicks, Jr., Public Service Engineer

The engineers comprising the staff of the Department during 1966 were as follows:

John I. Logan, Traffic Engineer

B. Traffic Signs

The sign crews are responsible for the installation of all new signs and the maintenance of the signs that are already in use. Replacing faded signs, straightening bent posts, painting these posts, cleaning dirty signs, and the installation and repair of meter and pedestrian posts are part of the maintenance program for these crews.

These crews also assist in the posting of detours and in snow removal in the Pershing Square Parking Lot.

C. Painting

The paint crews are responsible for applying all pavement markings throughout the City. Maximum effort in painting is concentrated in June and July when the weather has become warm enough to permit night work in order to provide minimum interference to traffic.

During inclement weather the crews prepare sign blanks, construct portable sign bases, and assist the sign or signal crews. During winter months they repair the paint machines and assist in snow removal in the Pershing Square Parking Plaza in addition to the other items mentioned.

3. Parking Meters and Parking Lots

The parking meter maintenance crew is responsible for the physical maintenance and repair of the meter system. All coin collection is done by a private firm under contract with the Finance Department.

During 1966 the program of overhaul and rehabilitation was continued. Under this program each meter will be completely overhauled, worn parts replaced, the housing cleaned and painted, and new instruction plates installed. This maintenance program will prolong the useful life of these meters for several years. It will become necessary to schedule a replacement of these meters, since this particular make and model is no longer being manufactured.

The following is a summary of all revenues collected from parking meters and other parking facilities by the City of Providence,

4. Complaints and Requests

Complaints and requests originating from individual citizens constitute a major part of the field investigation work of the Department. Upon receipt of either a complaint or request for some traffic control measure, a thorough field investigation is made, the results reviewed, and action taken where necessary.

The following indicates the general classification of complaints and requests received:

5. Traffic Regulations Established

For 1966 a total of 167 traffic regulations were established on the City streets, as shown in the following list. These changes were brought about by changes in the traffic flow, and include temporary regulations established during the construction periods, as well as regulations established as a result of complaints and requests.

6. Traffic Accident Analysis

In order to establish a priority for engineering studies, to serve as a tool in determining accident prevention methods, and provide factual information to the police as well as the public, the Traffic Engineering Department assembles and analyzes all traffic accidents reported in the City. To obtain as complete coverage as possible, reports are obtained directly from the Providence Police Department, the Rhode Island Department of Motor Vehicles, the Rhode Island Transit Authority, and the Yellow Cab Company.
