Councilman Paulman

Dear Mr. Paulman:

I am writing to you regarding the matter of the proposed new building for the City of New York. I am sure that you are aware of the fact that the City is in a very difficult financial position and that it is necessary to find ways to reduce its expenditures. One of the ways in which this can be done is by the construction of a new building which will be more economical than the present one. I am sure that you will agree that this is a very important matter and that it is one which should be given the highest priority.

I am sure that you will agree that the proposed new building is a very good one and that it will be a great improvement over the present one. I am sure that you will agree that it is a building which will be more economical and which will be more suitable for the needs of the City. I am sure that you will agree that it is a building which will be a great credit to the City and which will be a great benefit to the people of New York.

I am sure that you will agree that it is a building which will be a great credit to the City and which will be a great benefit to the people of New York. I am sure that you will agree that it is a building which will be a great credit to the City and which will be a great benefit to the people of New York.

Very truly yours,
