MODEL CITIES AGENCY

JOSEPH A. DOORLEY, JR.
MAYOR

RICHARD R. TORCHIA
DIRECTOR

June 30, 1972

Mr. Vincent Vespia
City Clerk
City Hall
Providence, Rhode Island

Dear Mr. Vespia:

Transmitted herewith is a copy of the Model Cities Program for the Fourth Year to commence October 1, 1972 to September 30, 1973.

Subject program is submitted to you with the expectation that it will be placed on the docket for the next Council meeting in order that the Council may take action as they wish. It is, however, anticipated that such a report would in fact be referred to committee on first introduction, and hopefully a recommendation on the report will take place at the next Council meeting some time in August. Accordingly once the Council has made its recommendation, it will be submitted to HUD in August so that we may start the Fourth Year Action Plan effective October 1, 1972.

The Model Cities Program again is applying for $2.2 million as it has in the previous three years. The summary of the projects that will be undertaken is also attached. This office has also taken the liberty of submitting to each Council member a copy of this summary report so that they may be better apprised of these activities being carried out in the South Providence Neighborhood.

A general assessment of the Program to date has been marked with some successes, and as always is the case a few failures. In the three short years that we have been in existence, we have over 1/3 of the neighborhood under some form of urban renewal; twenty new structures have been built and occupied. These houses represent the first residential construction in over forty years in the neighborhood. Our Reading Program which was revised this past year has been adopted by the school system under HEW Title I for all Title I schools commencing the latter part of this year. This program employs over 300 people, of which 80% are from the Model Neighborhood. It is anticipated that this year will see the Martin Luther King Shopping Center begin its renovation for a multi-purpose center. Directly across the street will be the Comstock Urban Renewal Program which also should be started this year, and will include approximately eighty new units.

These improvements and successes represent only a small part of the activity that this program has attempted to carry out in order that the residents may have a better place to live. As in all urban problems, there is no one solution to success. Model Cities has attempted to demonstrate the process of citizen involvement in both the planning process and the execution of various projects in order that it meet the needs of the various people residing in the neighborhood. Certain successes have been achieved by implementing this method, but those successes can't possibly match the tremendous need of an impoverished community that has both economic and physical deterioration.

It is the anticipation of this Agency that the City Council will look favorably on the Fourth Year Program so that we may continue the struggle of improving the lives of the people located in the South Providence neighborhood.

Sincerely yours,

Richard R. Torchia
