HEADQUARTERS

209 FOUNTAIN ST., PROVIDENCE 3, R. I.

JOHN A. MURPHY, CHIEF

March 1, 1961.

Honorable Francis A. Lennon
Commissioner of Public Safety

Dear Sir:

Herewith is the Annual Report of the Providence Police Department for the year 1960 as prepared by the Superiors of the various Divisions and Bureaus.

I respectfully call your attention to the fact that the City of Providence was cited by the National Safety Council for leading all Cities in its population group for the least traffic deaths per 100,000 population in attaining a reduction of 63% over the previous year.

The City of Providence during the year 1960 established the best record in its history for the low traffic fatalities (6) and having achieved a total of one-hundred-seventy-three consecutive days without a traffic fatality.

The City of Providence was also Commended by the Rhode Island State General Assembly for its 1960 record in the matter of traffic safety.

In cooperation with the International Association of Chiefs of Police, Officers from Seoul, Korea, Tunisia and the Bolivian Police Departments received on-the-job training within this Department during this past year.

Respectfully submitted,

John A. Murphy

BUREAU OF PLANNING AND RESEARCH

On September 18, 1960 the Bureau of Planning and Research was instituted as a new unit of the police department and assigned to the office of the chief of police. The bureau is headed by Captain Howard A. Franklin and staffed with three sergeants.

The prime responsibility of this new unit is the study, evaluation and investigation of problems affecting the accomplishment of the total police mission, i.e. prevention, enforcement, investigation, etc.

Its initial work in the closing months of 1960 was in connection with a problem facing not only this department and this newly organized bureau but one which similarly confronts police departments and other law enforcement agencies in every section of the country - that of the rise in crime in the United States. Providence, too, has experienced this increase despite a decline in population during the past decade.

Commissioner of Public Safety Francis A. Lennon, being fully cognizant of this problem, began a study of methods of police administration of various cities in this country who have similarly been confronted with this same matter. He visited and studied at first hand those departments which have successfully met the problem. Upon his return, the commissioner instituted the Bureau of Planning and Research whose first duties would be to make a study of our present system of patrolling, our post outlines, the types of patrol being used, and the redesigning of the patrol system to meet the present day need.

The bureau compared our present department strength with that of other cities in our population class and found that our force seemed sufficient to adequately police a city of this size. The bureau did find, however, that it would be necessary to redistribute our patrol force in those areas of the city having the highest incidence of crime. In order that patrol posts might be more properly aligned and the patrol system changed to meet our local police patrol problem, it was vitally necessary that the bureau first determine exactly where in the city lay the greatest needs for redeployment to achieve the maximum repressive action resulting from modern police patrol. Also to be considered would be the changing patterns of various neighborhoods and need for police services brought about by an ambitious redevelopment program and the building of expressways through the city which caused the shift of large numbers of our citizens and brought about industrial building.

In planning the overhauling of our patrol system, the bureau evaluated past records in its search for vital information and such other tools as would be needed to do the job. The bureau found part of the answer in an extensive study of police responses for the calendar year 1959, and in a similar check of several months of 1960 which confirmed the 1959 picture. Some 42,000 calls for all types of police services during 1959 (not including traffic citations) were re-examined via records. These services were then spotted by type on a map and in this manner it was possible to determine the type of service rendered and the location of same. The high incident areas became immediately apparent along with those showing the greatest demand for medical, inspectional and other services. This and other types of maps such as zoning, census, crime contour and comparison maps of former patrol systems will serve as the basis of design for the distribution of new patrol posts, both motorized and foot beats. Other tools considered for this work will be charts and graphs elicited from local records pointing out the particular patrol problems existing here. Members of the bureau have also visited other New England cities to study their procedures and patrol processes.

The existence of a Bureau of Planning and Research is truly an integral part of a police department since it gives a police department the personnel to consider the basic arts and sciences which are related to police work with an opportunity to utilize many complex ideas, doctrines, principles, facts, customs, ethics and technology from these basic and applied fields of knowledge. These systems of knowledge will not only be applied to our police organizational and operational systems, but also to the analysis of local conditions and particular police problems. The Bureau of Planning and Research will make continuing estimates of the law enforcement situation as it affects Providence and will prepare appropriate plans for the deployment of the department's resources in whole or in part under all conceivable conditions, present or future.

BUREAU OF INTELLIGENCE

The Bureau of Intelligence was established and began operations on September 18, 1960. This new unit of the department is directly responsible to the chief of police. Sgt. Walter A. McQueeney serves as director and is assisted by a patrolman.

The functions of the bureau are as follows:

1. The gathering, recording and investigation of information concerning individuals and organizations whose associates or background activities identify them with, or are characteristic of crime.
2. The dissemination of information to all divisions of the police department concerned therewith, and to any member of the department who may have a legitimate interest in any particular case or person about which information may be available.
3. The conducting of investigations into special cases wherever and at such times as may be required along with making available to other law enforcement agencies such information obtained and available as may be pertinent to any legitimate interest said agencies may have in matters coming to the attention of this unit.

Since October 1, 1960, over 7,000 persons have been questioned through field interrogation reports of the Uniform and Detective Divisions and other special squads of this department. Thousands of automobiles have been stopped in the processes of field interrogation which have provided the bureau with much information which has been made available to our department and other law enforcement agencies in the state.

The Bureau of Intelligence is currently working on background information of various known police characters for the purpose of having a running inventory on the criminal element in this area.

An extensive automobile data file has been compiled by the bureau and this file includes such information as the make of car, year, color, model, registration number along with the owner or usual operator's name and address. Over 5,000 automobile listings are in these files at the present time which can be used for references purposes regarding any type of crime.

Also available at the bureau is a weekly list showing all persons recorded as having moved their residence during the previous week.

Other lists prepared by this unit include subjects released from the Adult Correctional Institutions, and one indicating registration numbers of cars owned or in use by known police characters.

The bureau at the present time has been directly or indirectly responsible for the apprehension of approximately twenty-five subjects wanted for investigation by this department and other law enforcement agencies. All personnel are encouraged to avail themselves of the processes of this office in the combat against criminal activity in our city.

"C" SQUAD

By order of the Commissioner of Public Safety, Francis A. Lennon, on November 14, 1960, General Order # 73 Series of 1960, was issued making effective at 8:00 A.M. Sunday, November 20, 1960, a vice control unit to be known as the "C" squad.

It was stated in this General Order that the duties of the "C" Squad were:

- 1) To reinforce the regular activities of the Uniform and Detective Divisions in the suppression and control of vice. These later divisions are not relieved of their responsibilities by the establishment of this unit.
- 2) Thoroughly investigate and vigorously repress all forms of gambling, prostitution, perversion and related lewdness, liquor law violations and narcotic traffic.
- 3) Cooperate closely with all other units of the department, with particular liaison with the Intelligence Bureau.
- 4) That the squad shall be under the direct command of the Chief of Police.

On the same date, November 14, 1960, General Order # 74, Series of 1960, was issued making effective at 3:00 A.M. Sunday, November 20, 1960, transferring Sergeant Robert E. Ricci of the Central Station to "C" Squad as Squad Leader.

JUVENILE BUREAU

Another successful camping season was enjoyed during the summer of 1960 at the Point Judith Junior Police Camp. Each year 400 boys spend a period of two weeks each at this camp at no expense to them as all expenses are paid by the city. This camp is situated right on the seashore and the average weight gained by the boys during their stay is 5-10 pounds. They are all underprivileged boys that attend this camp. All recreation at the camp is supervised by the members of the Juvenile Bureau and the entire camp is under the direction of the Director of Recreation of the City of Providence. There is approximately $20,000.00 appropriated annually for the operation of this camp.

Fifty-nine lectures were given to church groups and civic organizations on the "The Functions and Operations of the Juvenile Bureau", by members of the Juvenile Bureau.

During the year of 1960 each public, private and parochial school in the City of Providence was visited three times for the purpose of giving safety lectures to the children. Different hazards were pointed out to the children, such as: riding two on a bicycle, using only crosswalks when crossing highway, skating on thin ice, various swimming hazards, etc. This aided greatly in keeping our accident record involving children to a minimum.

Our Junior Police Officers supervise baseball, touch football and basketball games, playing against leagues sponsored by the Recreation Department of the City of Providence, Boys Clubs and the Providence Journal-Bulletin Community League. A keen, but friendly, rivalry exists between the Junior Police teams and the outside teams.

On Halloween night the members of the Juvenile Bureau play host to over 10,000 boys and girls at parties throughout the city. These parties are sponsored by the local merchants and have been very successful and have cut property damage and vandalism down to a minimum. The children attending are awarded prizes of bicycles, dolls, sporting equipment, games etc. and have moving pictures, ice cream soda, candy, pastry and fruit. The Juvenile Bureau has sponsored these parties for the past 15 years.

BUREAU OF PERSONNEL AND TRAINING

Recruit Schools

During the year 1960 one recruit school was conducted at this division. This school the twenty-fourth class started April 24, 1960 and completed their course of training October 23, 1960. Separations were at a minimum with only 3 men retiring on pension and 7 submitting their resignation, consequently it was necessary to recruit but 10 men to maintain the authorized personnel strength. At the present time there are 9 vacancies existing in the ranks, consequently it will be necessary to convene another school during the coming year in order to reach the maximum allowance.

School Crossing Guards

This type of work continues to prove very attractive as a parttime position with only 4 resignations being tendered during the year 1960. Filling these vacancies presents no problem as there are applications on file from aspirants from all sections of the city. During the past year the strength of this unit was increased by 15 in order that all school crossings would be covered by women guards. This was done by assigning 8 women to crossings formerly covered by police officers, and assigning 7 as reserves to fill in whenever any of the regularly assigned crossing guards were unable to report for work. When not required for school work these spares are used as spare women parking checkers. This arrangement has proved very effective, and there has been very few occasions where it has been necessary to use a regularly assigned policeman to perform this type of work since the inauguration of this program.

Promotional Schools

It was necessary to conduct a promotional school for Lieutenants during the year 1960, and also to select candidates for a Sergeant's Promotional School to be conducted in January 1961. The outstanding feature of these schools was the method used for selecting candidates through an evaluation system similar to that used by better organizations in private industry. The Evaluation Board for the Lieutenant's School was composed of; One Captain and Three Lieutenants. The same type board for the Sergeant's School was composed of; Two Lieutenants, and Six Sergeants. The present plans are to conduct Annual Sergeant's and Lieutenant's Schools in order to keep an up-to-date and qualified promotional list. At the present time there are no vacancies in the rank of Lieutenant, and one vacancy in the rank of Sergeant. There are two vacancies in the rank of Captain which will be filled under a program established by The Honorable Commissioner of Public Safety.

Police Dog

During the year 1960 a new system of patrolling was added by acquiring a police dog. This dog was obtained in April 1960 and after training and schooling by a member of our own department the dog was given patrol duty with a patrolman assigned to that particular duty. At the present time it appears that this experiment has been successful within this department, as the dog has participated in many incidents and has proven his value by capturing offenders and controlling large crowds.

Pistol Qualification for Department

This year in order to meet the requirements of the State Law it was necessary for the members of the department to fire a course using the Army "I" Target in order to qualify. This was done by firing 3 strings of 10 rounds each from a distance of 25 yards slow fire.

They also fired at the Colt Silhouette Target as follows: 10 shots double action from the 7 $\frac{1}{2}$  yard line, - 5 shots prone from the 60 yard line, then 5 shots prone, 5 shots sitting, 5 shots with the right hand from behind the barrier, and 5 shots with the left hand behind the barrier, all from the 50 yard line; then 5 shots with the left hand and 5 shots with the right hand from behind the barrier, and 5 shots kneeling beside the barrier from the 25 yard line for a total of 50 shots.

Auxiliary Police

The Providence Police Reserves again proved their value as a unit that could be called upon by furnishing needed man-power for emergencies and extra details during the year 1960. They participated in the local Civilian Defense Operation "Alert" by supplying men for a detail at the Scituate Headquarters during this drill. They also augmented our regular patrol during the Fourth of July and Halloween observances by furnishing a detail to patrol selected trouble spots which was a tremendous factor in controlling vandalism, especially in the Lippitt Hill Area which was their principal assignment. They also responded in the true spirit of dedicated workers and public minded citizens by supplying details for the Polio Clinics during the epidemic that took place this past summer.

Twenty-fourth Recruit School, started April 24, 1960 and their course of training was completed October 23, 1960. The following are statistics relative to this school:

Sixth District Court..... 2,660
Providence Police Court..... 13,191
(Includes Blue Tag Violations not answered within 5 days)

SUMMONSES PREPARED AND SERVED

During the year there were 37,319 Summonses prepared and served through the Bureau of Prosecution.

There were 2,328 persons named in summonses who failed to appear in Providence Police Court and 2,664 re-summoned to appear in Sixth Judicial District Court.

PREPARING AND MAINTAINING COURT DOCKETS

Dockets of the Sixth Judicial District Court and the Providence Police Court are prepared and arranged by this Bureau after date of Trial has been determined by the Courts. Witnesses are summoned, different Divisions prosecuting cases are contacted and defense attorneys informed of the trial date. Contents of the Docket is examined the day previous to the Trial day by the Judge of the Court and a member of the Bureau. Unusual circumstances are brought to the attention of the Judge, as well as the reason for the delay in any case which remains on the Court Docket for longer than 30 days. It is satisfying to note that because of this routine as of December 31, 1960 there were only 47 cases concerning this department, pending in Sixth Judicial District Court and only 16 cases pending in Providence Police Court as of that date, in cases where the arraignments had been held and the accused are now awaiting trials.

BUREAU OF PROSECUTION (3)

ARMED SERVICES PERSONNEL

On July 29, 1960 as a result of a conference with Commander Patrick Haggerty, Legal Officer and Albert Busby, Security Officer, both from Quonset Point Naval Air Station, with Commander George E. O'Dowd, a system was inaugurated whereby all summonses for members of the Armed Services based in this area, including Quonset Point, Davisville and Newport Naval Station would be sent collectively to a Security Officer at each base.

This plan has resulted in a greater return on summonses served, also members who have departed from this area either because of separation from the armed service or because of transfer of duties, are now being contacted directly by Armed Services Personnel, without returning the summonses unserved to the Bureau of Prosecution, where previous to the adoption of this process, it required considerable time and effort to reach the accused, after being returned.

PARKING TAG PROCESSING SYSTEM

During the past year our system of processing Blue Tag Parking Violations has interested other departments to the extent that five other departments have visited our department and have been afforded the opportunity to observe our method of prosecution in these matters.

Detailed explanation of this system has been forwarded to three other Police Departments upon request, including the Cities of New York and Miami, Florida.

ATTENDANCE IN COURT

Each day of the past year a member of the Bureau of Prosecution attended the regular session of the Providence Police Court and recorded the Court Docket. The Sixth District Court which holds a regular session each day of the year, excepting Sundays, was also visited by a member of this bureau and a record made of the transactions which concerned this department.

The Warrant Officer appears before the Justices of the Courts each morning and under oath subscribes to the alleged complaint and agrees to prosecute the same with effect in all matters concerning this department. During the past year there were twelve (12) appeals heard in Superior Court; eight (8) from Providence Police Court and four (4) from Sixth Judicial Court, which required the appearance of the Warrant Officer to testify. One appeal from Superior Court required the appearance of the Warrant Officer in Rhode Island Supreme Court.

CAPIASES ISSUED

During the year, twenty-seven Capiases issued from Sixth District Court as a result of persons failing to appear after being released to Bail. Sixteen (16) of those named have been apprehended and eleven (11) are still active, three (3) of whom are at present incarcerated and Warrants have been forwarded.

BUREAU OF PROSECUTION

At 9:00 A.M. Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week, the Judge of the Sixth Judicial District Court, conducts a "Traffic Court" session during which he lectures to those present; who usually have appeared in answer to a summons for some motor vehicle violation; on the importance of being cautious at all time in the operation of a motor vehicle.

This department regularly furnished to the Court, enlarged photographs of accidents that have been investigated by this department which have resulted in death or serious injury. A description of the scene, weather and road condition at the time, together with the probable or contributing causes of the accident are described by the Judge in his warning and plea for safer operators.

It is interesting to note that since these "Traffic Court" sessions were inaugurated in August 1958, less than 1% of those persons now appearing in Sixth District Court, for motor vehicle violations, are repeaters, which is a decided improvement, at least partly resulting from the efforts of the District Court Judges. These efforts are further reflected in the improved Safety Record of our city.

IDENTIFICATION OF PARKING LAW VIOLATORS:

A member of the Bureau of Prosecution visits the Registry of Motor Vehicles each day, where he checks the registration number of all vehicles reported for parking violations, for which the Blue Tag has not been disposed of within five (5) days after the reported violation date, by payment at the office of the Clerk of Providence Police Court. Approximately 75 registration numbers are checked daily and from the information obtained, Warrants and Summonses are prepared. This method of checking registration of vehicles observed violating the parking regulations, has resulted in the identification of many vehicles improperly registered.

VEHICLES REGISTERED IN OTHER STATES.

During the past year a system of publishing monthly reports on vehicles registered in other states; charged with multiple parking violations in this city; which are distributed to members of this departments; have resulted in the towing of 252 vehicles from our city streets, for which the owners or persons in charge of the vehicles, appeared in Providence Police Court and disposed of 987 parking violations. This plan has caused a decided decrease in the backlog of parking violations, charged to non-residents who ignore our parking regulations.

Vehicles registered in another state are not reported for prosecution until at least three (3) violations within one year are listed against the registration.

BUREAU OF PROSECUTIONCRIMINAL CHARGE FILE.

Complete index and sample charge file on all criminal laws listed in the 1956 Rhode Island General Laws are included in a file maintained in this bureau. Additions to this file to include supplementary charges are made on the advice and with the cooperation of the City Solicitor. During the past year amendments to the existing laws and the addition of new charges resulted in the addition of the following;

Violations of the Motor Vehicle Code	8 additions
Criminal Law Charges	14 additions

Files of similar charges are maintained by the Bureau of Prosecution in the different divisions and cards are supplemented as received, resulting in an adequate file for reference by each division.

WARRANTS OBTAINED ON REQUEST

During the past year this office prepared ninety (90) warrants for the arrest of persons accused, after an investigation, when the identity of the person was known but his or her whereabouts unknown. These Warrants were issued after complaint was made to the Justice of the District Court. At the present time there are thirty-four (34) of these warrants outstanding, although several have been lodged at specific locations, for the apprehension of the person named.

PREVENTION

BUREAU

The Accident Prevention Bureau in 1960 received the support and cooperation of the local press, radio and television stations, the Mayor's Traffic Safety Committee and civic organizations. The activities of this bureau included the dissemination of traffic safety and accident prevention material to interested groups, civic, social and fraternal organizations, and to the general public.

A representative of the bureau was afforded the opportunity of reaching people directly during numerous speaking engagements before interested groups.

1960 saw the city's longest highway fatality deathless day period in history. The span of 173 days without a traffic fatality on Providence highways eclipsed the previous record of 156 days established in the year of 1940.

WARNING LETTERS

A total of 137 warning letters were sent to persons who operated motor vehicles in excess of the speed limit, which didn't warrant prosecution, asking them to cooperate with the police department in its continued efforts to lessen the loss of life and ever increasing amount of property damage resulting from careless and inattentive operation of motor vehicles upon our highways.

VISIT OF LIEUTENANT CARL S. PIKE Kent County Sherriff's Department

Mixing magic, humor and a pleasant personality, Lieutenant Pike visited schools in the city in a graphic demonstration of safety habits. Employing the use of entertainment, the lessons of safety were inculcated upon his audiences far more effectively than the use of the conventional safety lecture.

SAFETY LETTERS

With the opening of the new school year, it was necessary to alert the school children to the dangers of traffic accidents. This applied especially to the younger children. Letters including a pledge, which was to be shared by the student's family as well were prepared and distributed to the school children.

The letter was co-signed by the Chief of Police and the student in an attempt to add a personal touch and give the child a feeling of cooperation.
