To whom this may Concern:

I do not have any objection to a gas station at 809 Broad Street, Providence, Rhode Island, providing an adequate buffer zone is established between my apartment building and the station. My tenants have complained to me that cars have been parked in such a manner that exhaust fumes have continuously poured into the windows of the apartment building this is very uncomfortable and annoying to my tenants especially during the spring, summer, and fall months when the windows are open, also trucks containing rubbish and etc. have been parked giving also a foul odor. I would like to have an attractive planting or fence which would prevent cars being parked too close to my building.

Thanking you for your attention, I am,

Sincerely,
