BUILDERS OF

ROTARY : CLOTH : PRESSES.

OUR 1893 ROTARY STEAM CLOTH PRESS Is made of New Designs and Patterns throughout, and is Fully Guaranteed.

The Patent Bed gives four points of contact, and also allows the goods to press entirely up to the seams. The goods are pressed uniformly throughout their entire length and breadth, and any extra thickness of the cloth does not strain the machine in any way, as is the case where screws are used to give pressure.

We also manufacture Patent Friction Couplings, Shafting, Hangers and Pulleys, for all classes of work.

Mr. George Sampson, for thirty years senior member of the firm of Sampson, Davenport, & Co., afterward Sampson, Murdock, & Co., died in Boston, January 30, 1896, in his 70th year.

He was connected with directory publishing for over fifty years, and the high standard of books issued by this house is to a large degree attributable to his wise discrimination and loyalty to the public's interest.

Mr. Sampson was born in Plymouth, Mass., and was a direct descendant of Henry Sampson, one of the Mayflower company. He was greatly respected by all who knew him, and will be remembered as a man of strong sympathies and generous actions, and in all his dealings, fair and square.

PREFACE.

The Providence Directory and Rhode Island Business Directory, the 56th number in the series, is herewith presented to our patrons.

It is our purpose to issue this publication earlier in the year than has been the custom as we find our citizens prefer it.

There are some objections to so doing, but the reasons in favor of it seem to preponderate.

The changes made in preparing this book are more than in any past year, and the figures on the next page give them in tabulated form.

Of those whose names appeared in the Providence Directory of 1895, 16,527 have changed the location of their residences, 4,340 their business location, 3,535 the nature of their business or avocation.

The publication of the House Directory in a separate volume, with the additional features, received almost unqualified approval, and we have this year repeated it. The Map has been thoroughly corrected, and every department of the book has been carefully revised, and its scope enlarged.

Our venerable citizen, Mr. Thomas R. Briggs, whose name appeared in the first directory of Providence, issued in 1824, remains with us, and his name is here recorded. He was born in 1807, and is the last of the list given in the preface of the Directory of 1884 as having been printed in the 1824 book, and still recorded in the 1884 issue. Since that date all have left us but Mr. Briggs, to whom we hope to give special mention for many years.

Attention is called to our table of Contents on the next page.

We can refer to patrons by the hundreds whose printing we have done, wholly or in part, for years, which would not be the case if our work was but ordinary.

Constant supervision, a keen lookout for any improvement, method or device, a modern establishment in every department, a reputation for fine work to maintain, and a determination to execute nothing but productions of the highest grade, have all been of service in the great success achieved by the
