CLEAN WATER ACT 30

2002

July 26, 2002

Dear Town Official:

The Clean Water Act was signed 30 years ago on October 18, 1972. This federal Act amended and broadened the Water Pollution Control Act and set the goal of "fishable, swimmable" waters by 1980. Although that goal has not been met 100%, "protecting, maintaining and restoring the chemical, biological and physical integrity of the nation's waters" has come a long way in cleaning up our rivers, ponds, lakes, wetlands and near shore marine waters.

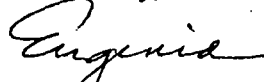

We ask the 39 cities and towns in Rhode Island to proclaim October 18 Clean Water Day. On the thirtieth anniversary of this highly beneficial law that has improved water quality, returned the value of waterfronts in cities and towns, and provided recreational resources to our citizens, we ask city and town councils in Rhode Island to consider the improvements to their waterways and way of life brought by the Clean Water Act, and to create a proclamation. We enclose a model upon which to build your own document.

Please arrange a consideration of this item on your August or September council meeting agenda.

In Rhode Island, Audubon Society, Save the Bay, RI DEM, RI Rivers Council, the Narragansett Bay Commission, and the U. S. EPA staff a committee for the state's celebration. We ask that you provide a copy of your proclamation to CWA 30, c/o Audubon Society of RI, 12 Sanderson Road, Smithfield, RI 02917. Please call me (949-5454) if you have any questions.

Thank you for joining us in the protection of water's vital resources and for celebrating the 30th Anniversary of the Clean Water Act.

Cordially,
