PRINTERS' ROLLERS J. H. OSGOOD & CO. 100 Milk St., Boston.

To all to whom these Presents shall come,

Greeting:

WE closed the nineteenth century with the largest business we ever had, and our plant was severely taxed all through the year 1900 to turn out work with our usual promptness,—but we did it. We are now busy with large additions to our facilities, in floor space, in presses, and in material. Two new cylinder presses and five new job presses are going in this summer, the latest type faces are being introduced, and up-to-date labor-saving devices are under consideration.

We mention these things simply to show that we are not living on our reputation, and that we intend to give our customers the benefit of everything that will make our service prompt and reliable. We realize that the "mill will never grind with the water that is past," and we expect to go on under the same old watchwords: "promptness, accuracy, good work, and fair prices."

With thanks for the past, and with confidence in the future,

E. L. Freeman & Sons

THE CORP BROS., whose pictures are shown above, have been making bicycles for seven years. While many more pretentious manufacturers have failed these enterprising workers have steadily increased their business. Twice they have moved into larger quarters. They now occupy a large corner of the Fuller Building, where with modern machinery and a complete stock of everything pertaining to bicycles they are doing a business that is most flourishing.

Repairing of Bicycles, Automobiles and in fact any machinery is a very important part of their work and their promptness, good work and low prices is bringing them new trade continually.

If so, the best way to honour their memory is to erect a Souvenir on their resting-place. The difficulty until now has been with many, the high prices charged for

But the difficulty is now disappeared since the opening of the New Laboratory in Marble in 72 Spruce Street, Providence, which is under the management of Christian Artists. The prices charged are very low, varying from $5 up.
