WHEREAS, Providence is home to several world-class institutes of higher education, with thousands of college and university faculty, staff, and students who live in our city and in our neighborhoods; and

WHEREAS, COVID-19 resulted in all local colleges and universities transitioning to distance learning, clearing out and closing of on campus dormitories, and sending students home for most of the spring in order to alleviate the public health risks for their students and the public; and

WHEREAS, Epidemiologists, including the American Medical Association, have warned that there is a potential for a second wave of COVID-19 cases in the Fall of 2020 which would coincide with the resumption of classes for the start of the 2020-2021 academic calendar; and

WHEREAS, If colleges and universities hope to reopen for in-person learning in the fall of 2020, we as a city need to do everything possible to collaborate with all members of our community to ensure the safety of all residents; and

WHEREAS, The faculty and students of our local institutions play an integral role in the social and economic fabric of the City of Providence and it will require all of us working together to enable the safe return of faculty and students to the City so that we can all begin to build a new normal without risking another wave of COVID-19 cases; and

WHEREAS, The creation of reopening plans that set forth clear and actionable steps for how the colleges and universities intend on maintaining public safety when they do reopen campuses for in-person learning will signal to both the students and the residents of Providence that there is a way to co-exist safely and productively, even in the era of COVID-19.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the City Council of the City of Providence does hereby request that the Mayor of Providence establish a working group to coordinate the formation of reopening plans for all colleges and universities located within the City of Providence so that they may transition to hosting in-person learning for the 2020-2021 academic calendar; and
