February 27, 1961

The President
Providence City Council
Providence, R. I.

Sir:

I ask you can the Council as a duly elected representative body seriously consider at your meeting scheduled for Thursday, March 1, the proposal to close Manning Street between Brook and Hope Streets in order to permit Brown University to build a seven-story building across it and thus ruin a fine residential section of the City.

My question stems from the lack of publicity given the matter and the fact that only two City Councilmen have up to now considered the matter and recommended approval. I say only two because of the five members who attended the single public hearing only three voted and of the three apparently one dissented since only a majority recommended approval. Is the City Council, a body of some size, to be guided by the decision of only two members, both of whom represent districts far distant from Manning Street.

Speaking for many property owners in the area surrounding the proposed building site, let me say we feel that the recommendation of the two Council members is hasty, ill-advised and not to the best interest of the City. That the President of Brown University in his talk at the public hearing requesting the closing of Manning Street went to such an extreme length as to insinuate that the winning of the "cold war" against the U.S.S.R. was dependent upon Brown erecting the proposed building on this particular site was, to say the least, absurd. How any intelligent person could subscribe to this "Ballyhoo" is beyond the comprehension of the writer and many of his neighbors.

We trust you will postpone decision.

Very truly yours,

John A. Gwynne
